

A Revenue Diagnostic for Cozmo Blis

We sent Cozmo Blis one enquiry. What happened next says less about that message — and more about the system behind it.

OBSERVED — WHATSAPP ENQUIRY

12:28 AM

Enquiry sent to Cozmo Blis's WhatsApp, asking about treatment options.

8:00 AM next day

First human response received. No automated qualification triggered in between.

7 HRS 32 MIN UNTENDED

This was a real message sent to Cozmo Blis's own WhatsApp number — not a guess.

A single test can't tell us how often this happens. What it does tell us: right now, there's no way for anyone — including you — to know either way.

WHY THIS MATTERS

For a founder-led clinic, most gaps get caught eventually — someone notices, mentions it, fixes it. A gap in after-hours response is different. It's invisible by nature: nothing shows up in a report, and no one complains, because the patient who never got a reply simply never became one to begin with.

CONFIRMED FROM OUTSIDE

- ✓ Cozmo Blis is running 28 active ads for surgical procedures — so new enquiries are coming in regularly.
- ✓ One enquiry sent at 12:28 AM got a reply at 8:00 AM the next day, with nothing automatic in between.

CAN'T CONFIRM WITHOUT YOUR DATA

- Whether this happens occasionally or most nights — and how many enquiries a month that adds up to.
- Whether it's actually costing you patients, or your team catches up well enough that it doesn't matter.

WHAT WE'D CHECK FIRST, IF WE HAD ACCESS

- How many enquiries land outside working hours, and how long they typically wait for a reply.
- How many of those enquiries go on to book a consultation.

WHAT WE'RE NOT SAYING

This isn't about changing how your team talks to patients, or replacing anyone. People clearly trust Dr. Anitha and the care they get here — your reviews show that, and we're not touching it. This is only about whether anyone would notice if it happened again.

The real question isn't whether Cozmo Blis lost this one enquiry — it's how many nights like this one have already happened, quietly, with no record anywhere. Worth finding out together?
